

Press Release

“Numbers don’t lie,” says Pune based Number Queen

Dr Mmanisha Rakshe is a noted numerologist who has brought positive change to many lives with her numbers.

By a staff reporter

In 2008-09, Datta, a welder made a nondescript request to a little known numerologist. Datta wanted to know his lucky number. The number that the numerologist suggested changed Datta’s life forever. He went on to win a lottery of a sum that he only dreamt of.

Pune based numerologist Dr Mmanisha Rakshe has had a passion for numbers since her childhood. All her life numbers have fascinated her and she has been playing around with them. “It was at an early age that I discovered the value of numbers. I found that some worked for you while as some did not. Also there were some numbers which worked you for you but not for others,” said Rakshe. One thing led to another and the curiosity of the number game made me take to books and she started understanding the influence of numbers on an individual’s life.

“The study of numerology is as old as history, and various systems of this study have evolved in different countries from time immemorial,” said Rakshe.

She added that during the second world war, Hitler used to consult his astrologer on many occasions. It is also said that Napoleon Bonaparte used to spell his name as Napoleone Buonapart but on the advice of a numerologist he omitted the letters 'e' and 'u' from his name and heightened the power of his personality, and became the emperor.

Also in numerology there are no lucky or unlucky numbers as such. What may be a lucky number for one person may not be so for another. It all depends on what number one is governed by. Even then, in the past, some people have thoughts of certain numbers as unlucky. For instance, the Romans regarded even numbers as unlucky.

Today Mmanisha provides consultancy for personal name changes, business name changes, signature changes, company name changes, names for new born babies and even phone number changes.

“In 1999-2000, I used to run a marriage consultancy where I had a daily interaction with hundreds of people. There are a certain percentage of couples who were always fighting and wanted to separate. When I studied them from a numerology perspective I found that there was conflict between their names and their date of birth. Since date of births could not be changed I suggested a name change and it worked wonders. Most of the couples started living together and many of them live a happy married life.”

In numerology all the numbers have a particular vibration which may or may not vibrate with each other. Every number has its unique quality. If the name number total doesn't matches with the total of birth date number it comes to a bad total, then ill fortune, heart breaks, disease, quarrels, negative thinking and all kind of wrong things happen in life. But if the name number vibrates with our date of birth and comes to a good total, then it makes things move fast, removes confusion and gives positive thinking, removes negative people around us, stirs growth of business, fame, happiness in love, mental peace and satisfaction and all kinds of success and happiness in all aspects of life.

Today among her clients, Mmanisha can boast of businessmen, politicians, builders, journalists, doctors, models and wannabe filmstars.

Media Relations: Vijay Ambade # 9823016361